Our auction regulations are to be found on page 19 of TEE TIME No. 2.

Members requiring a copy can obtain this by send -ing a SASE to Mrs Cora Collins.

FRONT COVER ILLUSTRATION

1891 Printed Pictorial Post Card franked by a Queen Victoria 1/2d vermilion tied by the Hythe Kent Duplex, with illustrations on both sides. The frame is in an ornate "Ye Queen's Head" frame, the address is to one side of a dashing mailcoach, and shows two ladies and gentleman playing golf with a caddie looking on & "With Seasons Greetings". The words "Book Post" are printed above the stamp, because the 1/2d. rate was only available for printed matter (which this card is) at this date. An exceptionally early Picture Postcard.

SIR WALTER SCOTT GOLFER

by Stuart R. MacKenzie

There is no doubt that Sir Walter Scott was a golfer. As through his writings he has caused to mention the language of Golf from time to time. In Redgauntlet he mentions Links and Bunkers.

The fact appears to be sufficiently established by his letter to John Cundell, the Editor of 'Some Historical Notices Relative to the Progress of Golf in Scotland', which was included in the little volume of the 'Rules of the Thistle Golf Club', published in Edinburgh in 1824, in which Scott declares himself to be 'Still an admirer of that manly exercise, which in former days I occasionally practised'.

POSTCARD CORNER

1905 Photographic Postcard by J. Patrick of St. Andrews showing members of the Thistle Golf Team who were runners up in the 'Evening Dispatch' Trophy Tournament. Early postcards of this type are especially nice if the people shown are named and what the event was.

The Thistle Golf Club was founded in 1817 and they played over the St. Andrew's Links.

Switzerland first produced a postal stationery card as far back as 1925 showing Luzern Golf Course and since that four others have been issued, the last being 1963.

All cards are printed on a light-buff card with the vignette and stamp printed in color.

In recent years all the cards have become quite elusive in both unused and used state, but now and again they turn up in dealer's counter boxes so it pays to keep one's eyes open.
